

HOLIDAY PLACES AND ACTIVITIES FROM THE SASKATOON PUBLIC LIBRARY

Compiled by DIANE WEIR

In the list below there is reference to the "AV Department" and to the "Reference Department". Here is a brief description of these two components of many libraries. The Audio-visual Department lends both records and films (8 mm and 16 mm). Among the records in the Saskatoon Public Library are several of nature sounds, including the two Peterson albums of bird songs (west and east). Several of the films are on natural history. There are also catalogues of films available from other sources.

As will be noted in the list below, our Reference Department has some books that are not found in the Circulation Department. While Reference books can be used only in the library, we have listed two books from that Department both for your information and because they may be in the circulation departments of other libraries. (The call number would probably be similar with the "R" deleted.)

Our Reference Department also has a large selection of atlases and maps. Included are flat maps of countries and cities around the world (these may be borrowed) as well as topographical, geological and land use maps (which may not be borrowed). There are also several cabinets which contain the Tourist File. It includes booklets, road maps and other material on countries, provinces, states and cities, and these may be borrowed.

For boys and girls up to Grade 7, there are additional books on holiday places and activities in the Children's Department of the library.

ANGIER, Bradford. Wilderness cookery. 1963. Details on preparing game are combined with information on wild fruit and vegetables to make this a useful book for hunter, fisherman, camper, outdoor vacationist, and backyard barbecuer. 641.6 A588

BAIRD, D. M. Nature's heritage. 1967. Pictures, illustrations, maps, and text combined in a book which shows the beauty and diversity of nature throughout Canada's national parks. 917.1 B

BROWN, P. L. What star is that? 1971. A guide to galaxies, constellations, stars and planets with 58 illustrations, 7 deep sky charts, and 15 colour slides housed in the Reference Department. Y523.8 B

CHERRINGTON, E. H. Exploring the night sky through binoculars. 1969. A do-it-yourself space programme with photographs and a gazetteer of lunar features which enable the reader to obtain a detailed look at the moon with the only requirements being a small telescope or a pair of binoculars and access to the sky. Y523.3 C

FABRI, Ralph. Painting outdoors. 1969. A production to outdoor painting and characteristics of oil, watercolour, acrylic, polymer, pastel and felt painting. 758.1 F

FISHER, James. Zoos of the world. 1961. A British scientist, writing from first-hand experience, relates an interesting view of zoos throughout the world. 590.744 F

FREDRICKSON, O. A. The silence of the North. 1972. Narrative of the northern life and survival of a 28 year old widow and her children in an uncleared homestead in the Canadian wilderness. 917.12 F

GRAVES, R. H. Bushcraft. 1972. Gives instructions on survival in a wilderness situation where only natural materials are available. 613.69 G

Illustrated natural history of Canada. A series of illustrated, seven volume set on nature in various physical areas of Canada.

ALLEN, R. T. Great Lakes. 1970. (another copy in the Reference Department) 574.9713 A

BODSWORTH, Fred. Pacific Coast. 1961. (another copy in Reference) 574.9711 B

BRAITHWAITE, Max. The western prairies. 1970. (other copies in Reference, Information History Room, and Stack) 574.9712 B

EDWARDS, R. Y. The mountain birds of Canada. 1970. (another copy in Reference) 574.971141 E

LEFOLII, Kenneth. St. Lawrence Valley. 1970. (another copy in Reference) 574.9714 L

LIVINGSTON, J. A. Canada. (another copy in Reference) 574.971 L

MOON, Barbara. The Canadian Shore. 1970. (another copy in Reference) 574.9712 M

- WE, Russ. The complete book of nature photography. 1971. Valuable tool for those involved with such subject matter for photography as plants, flowers, birds, reptiles, amphibians, and underwater and marine life. 778.943 K55
- COCK, George. Wild refuge. The story of National Wildlife Refuges throughout the United States and the men who try to save such animals as the American bison and the whooping crane. Y333.78 L427
- LEJOHN, B. M. Why wilderness. 1971. Report on mismanagement in Lake Superior Provincial Park. 333.78 L777
- FALL, R. P. Fossils for amateurs. 1972. Guide to collecting and preparing invertebrate fossils. 560.75 M143
- NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY. Canada's historylands. Touring our land- marks of history. 1962. For those interested in visiting historical sites in the United States on their vacation, here is a book with 676 descriptions and maps, most of them in colour. (In Reference only) R917.3 N277a
- NATIONAL GEOGRAPHIC SOCIETY. Canada's wonderlands. The scenic national parks and monuments of the United States. A book of maps and vacation hints with 890 full-colour illustrations of scenery, lakes, wildlife and plants. (In Reference only) R917.3 N277
- SONS, Christopher. Making wildlife movies. 1971. Excellent guide for amateur and semi-professional movie enthusiasts. It includes chapters on scripting, filming, fishing scenarios, editing, adding sound, and manipulating both the subjects and the camera. 778.5369
- TON, B. L. The Canadian Rockies trail. 1971. A hiker's manual to the exciting and rugged Rocky Mountain region. 796.522 P322
- SOM, J. E. Fossils in America. 1964. A book of nature, origin, identification, and a range guide to collecting fossils. 560.973 R212
- ARFF, Robert. Canada's mountain national parks. 1966. Natural history and tourist information are found in this book on the mountain parks of Banff, Jasper, Glacier, Kootenay, Mount St. Helens, Waterton Lakes and Yoho. 917.1025 S311
- H, K. V. The Canadian bicycle book. A combination of history and practical advice on the sport of bicycling which shows its unique values as recreation and a fitness activity. 796.6 S653
- SPEARS, Borden. Wilderness Canada. 1970. Beautiful colour photographs capture the mood and majesty of Canada's wild and combine with essays by experts to make this a valuable book on Canada. FA917.1 S741w
- THOREAU, H. D. In wilderness is the preservation of the world. 1967. Each selection by Thoreau is faced by an interpretive colour photograph by Eliot Porter, 72 full pages in all to make a beautiful, impressive volume. 779.3 T488
- ZAIDENBERG, Arthur. Drawing all animals. 1967. By clear advice and examples, one is shown how to draw large and small animals, both wild and domesticated. It includes a number of representative species in sketches. 743.6 Z21a
- There are a large number of books available on camping, fishing, and canoeing. The following is a selection of some titles in these areas.
- ANDERSON, L. A. A guide to canoe camping. 1969. 797.122 A547
- ANGIER, Bradford. Introduction to canoeing. 1973. On Order
- BARAB, Marvin. Family camping handbook. 1969. 796.54 B223
- BENNETT, Tiny. The art of angling. 1970. 799.12 B472
- CANADIAN FAMILY CAMPING FEDERATION. Family camping in Canada. 1970. 796.54 C212
- ELLIOTT, C. N. The outdoor observer: how to see, hear and interpret in the natural world. 1969. 799.1 E46
- ENGEL, L. K. The complete book of motor camping. 1971. 796.54 E57
- MORRIS, Dan. The weekend camper. 1973. On Order
- ORMOND, Clyde. Outdoorsman's handbook. 1970. 796.5 O73o
- STRUNG, Norman. Camping in comfort; a guide to modern outdoor vacations. 1971. 796.54 S927
- SULLIVAN, G. E. The backpacker's handbook. 1972. 796.54 S949